

Marks Blond Project R.f.z.K.

The Marks Blond Project is a place for contemporary art. Experiment, research and communication lie at the heart of our quest for knowledge, invention and innovation. The novelty of this art project is the exploration of philosophical, social and political aspects and their relevance in contemporary society.

The space is a showcase that opens up new views both into and out of itself, placing art into a social context. The artists, individuals and groups, present their projects selected or created especially for this space in a quest for exposure and public discussion. The weekly presentation of new artistic interventions elicit lively discussions, inspirational feedback and exciting developments.

The Marks Blond Project welcomes financial contributions from private parties, institutions and the public.
